DJ DZL (AKA TOMAS GONGORA)
BELIZEAN DISC JOCKEY/PROMOTER/ENTERTAINER

Biography

Growing up in the culturally-diverse neighborhood of King's Park in Belize City, DJ Dzl was exposed to a variety of music. The exposure began right at home with his Jamaican (but British descent) grandmother. Thanks to her background, Dzl listened to music ranging from the Rat Pack to the Beatles to Bing Crosby to Beethoven and back to Reggae King/Legend, Bob Marley.

Dzl gained a great appreciation for all things musical. That was further fueled when he joined the Young Artists Association (YAA) at the age of 15 and began to write/produce his own hip-hop infused music. His first single, "If I had A Wish" with his group The Kliq, shot to the top of Belizean countdowns and stayed strong for many weeks.

But it was in 2000 where he discovered his true passion. A friend in his new hometown, introduced Dzl to turntablism and he fell in love with DJing. He honed his craft, and coupled with his lifelong love of eclectic musical flavors, was able to quickly get recognized in his field.

In 2012, he was invited to be a member of a worldfamous group of DJs called the Bum Squad Djz. He has been representing his squad proudly ever since and has since played alongside several other Bums from around the world, including Bum Squad Founder/CEO, Latin Prince who is responsible for helping Lady Gaga to the top of the industry and is also her tour DJ.

Todate, DJ Dzl has rocked every major club in Belize with his versatile style of blending and is the most hired special occasion DJ in all of Belize, having played weddings for the rich and famous to backyard parties for his friends and family alike. He resides in San Pedro, Ambergris Caye, the #1 island in the World (2012 and 2013) according to TripAdvisor.com.
